Actor Bio:

Singing came naturally to this California native, Cassie Miller. At the age of three she discovered her vocal talents which were then shaped and appreciated as a soloist in church and school choirs. Cassie then began singing professionally. Her career has taken her around the globe, from doing her own solo tour of jazz clubs overseas to singing with John Lithgow at Carnegie Hall.

Cassie feels that her career has been a blessed one with many exciting moments, but when asked what she considers a career highlight, she replied, "Sharing the stage with the legendary Perry Como and Andy Williams as a back-up vocalist has been a dream come true". Big Band Swing is her forte and she has been the "girl singer" for many bands, including the Harry James Orchestra, the Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra, the Bill Elliott Swing Orchestra and the Larry Elgart Big Band.

Cassie has developed a reputation for excellence. Her song styling has brought her wide acclaim from many entertainers including Gregory Peck, Jimmy Stewart, Placido Domingo and Jerry Lewis. President and Mrs. Ronald Reagan have applauded her for her performances. Cassie's glowing stage presence, combined with her love of the music she sings, transports the audience back to the swing era of the 1940's and brings this gift to every performance.
